Even Pizza Gets a Quality Check!

You just never know what will happen next. I certainly didn't expect to see that my pizza was undergoing a quality check when I approached my local pizza chain for a supper pick-up.

Yet, here I was looking at a screen saying that although Spencer will have to wait 9 minutes for his pizza order (sorry Spencer, whoever you are!), and Sarah and Frank's pizza was ready for pick up, my delicious, flavourful pie was just finishing the Quality Check. How appropriate! I was thrilled to see that even a pizza would be put through the rigors of inspection and monitoring. I was certainly pleased to provide the ultimate final taste test and can happily report that the Quality Check was a success.

Are you looking to implement additional quality control checks at your organization? We can help! Maybe we can even talk over a pizza.

DID YOU ESCAPE?

(from LinkedIn post)

This month, the ASQ 0411 Maritimes section members were invited to test their problem-solving skills in an escape room. It was great to be challenged with both linear and non-linear clues and puzzles. While I won't spoil the outcome, it was an interesting experience that got past small talk and into the action. Followed by some well-deserved appetizers later on.

When Cyndi Lauper shouted, "Girls Just Want to Have Fun!" I am not sure she meant having fun while conducting audits, but that's the song I hear in my head each time I start an Opening Meeting. I realised recently that I have been auditing across four decades. Auditing was different back then, cue Pat Benatar's "We Belong", and I've learned a few secrets along the way.
